EKKA TRAVEL IS RIGHT ON TRACK

The easiest, hassle-free way to Ekka 2003 is to travel by train.

No traffic snarls, no worries about parking - patrons simply purchase a return rail ticket and an Ekka entry ticket from any of Citytrain's attended station.

They can then travel from their home station to either Roma Street, Central or Brunswick Street Stations to connect with one of the regular Ekka loop services.

Ekka trains depart every 10 to 15 minutes from these three inner city stations and go directly to the Exhibition platform, where patrons can step off ready for a day of non-stop entertainment.

Residents of Bundaberg and Maryborough can also take advantage of the Tilt Train to enjoy the excitement of the Ekka.

The early morning Tilt Train arrives at Roma Street Station at 9.40 am from where passengers can catch an Ekka Citytrain service. After a day of fun, they can return to Roma Street before returning home on the 5pm Tilt service out of Roma Street.

For bookings on the Tilt Train, patrons should phone 132 232 or their local QR Travel Centre.
