LITTLE SPROUTS COMPETITION 2027

RNA | THE ROYAL NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION OF QUEENSLAND

Welcome from the President

The Royal Queensland Show (Ekka) presented by the Bank of Queensland (BOQ) continues its proud tradition of recognising excellence and achievement through its 2027 competition program.

Since the first Ekka in 1876, competitions have been at the heart of the Show, providing generations of Queenslanders with the opportunity to showcase their skills, passion and dedication.

In 2026, almost 23,000 entries were received across 59 competitions, supported by a $759,000 prize pool. More than 5,000 exhibitors took part, contributing to the strongest entry numbers in more than five years as the Ekka celebrated its 150th anniversary.

Driven by strong demand in this milestone year, many sections reached entry capacity, including Led Steer, which recorded a record number of cattle. Several Arts and Cookery sections also achieved their highest participation in a decade.

The 2026 Ekka welcomed more than 423,000 people through the gates, with the past two shows attracting the largest crowds in almost 20 years.

In 2027, the Ekka will run for nine days from Saturday 7 to Sunday 15 August, across two weekends.

For more than 150 years, the Ekka has remained committed to championing agriculture and showcasing the best of Queensland, including though our diverse competition program.

As the new RNA President, I look forward to building on this proud legacy and continuing to champion the people, industries and communities that make Queensland so special.

Best of luck with your entries. We look forward to celebrating your achievements at the 2027 Royal Queensland Show.

HOW TO GROW AN EKKAPILLAR

1. Add seeds to potting mix and water well.
2. Place in a sunny position. Ideally a spot that gets morning sun for around 2 hours.
3. Water daily. Remember the seeds are delicate, so water gently.
4. Watch the seeds sprout and grow. Germination occurs around 3 -7 days.
5. In around 2 – 3 weeks plants will be 15 – 20cm tall.

WHEN THE EKKAPILLAR COMES BACK TO SCHOOL

Plough the plants back into the school garden. This practice enriches the soil. Adding nitrogen, feeding earthworms and soil organisms. Remove anything that is not biodegradable.

HOW TO BUILD AN INSECT HOTEL

1. Find a container: Use an old wooden box, a big plastic bottle, or even a small cardboard box.

2. Fill it with materials: Collect natural items like sticks, dry leaves, bark, gum nuts, and hollow reeds or bamboo.

3. Make cosy spaces: Stack everything up so there are small gaps and nooks for bugs to hide in.

4. Place your bug hotel: Put it in a sheltered spot in your garden, near a tree, or under some shrubs where it's safe and dry.

5. Wait for visitors: Before long, native bees, and other critters will start to move in!

Your insect hotel gives insects a safe spot to hang out and help your garden grow!

All Queenslanders have a General Biosecurity Obligation (GBO) under the Biosecurity Act 2014 (Qld). Failure to comply with the GBO is an offence.

The GBO means every person has a legal duty to take all reasonable and practical steps to prevent or minimise biosecurity risks under their control. For exhibitors, this includes ensuring animals, fodder, bedding, equipment, and vehicles entering the Showgrounds are free of disease and pests and managed to avoid the spread of contaminants.

Exhibitors must –

  Follow all instructions given by RNA officials, Council Stewards, or authorised Biosecurity Queensland officers.
- Ensure all documentation (e.g. NVDs, health declarations, movement records) is accurate, current, and complete.
- Immediately report any suspected disease, pest, or contamination to RNA staff or Biosecurity Queensland.

The RNA and exhibitors share responsibility under the GBO. The RNA manages the venue, but each exhibitor remains responsible for the animals and materials they bring onto the grounds. Compliance with these requirements is essential to protect the health of livestock, exhibitors, and the broader agricultural industry.

- In the event of an outbreak, poultry areas will be locked down and affected birds destroyed under biosecurity protocols
